“Take Time for School Breakfast” March 3 – 7, 2014

The National School Breakfast Week (NSBW) is celebrating its 25th Anniversary!

The annual celebration was launched in 1989 to raise awareness about the availability of the School Breakfast Program (SBP). The event is all about educating students, parents along with the community about the benefits of healthy school breakfast.

It also offers the opportunity to promote the logistical details about how your school breakfast works (i.e., what time do kids need to be at school for breakfast? What's grab and go breakfast? New menu items for the year?).

Timesaver Tools & Resources

Two resource banks that offer timesaving tools and resources in celebration of NSBW are found at:

- USDA's Healthy Meals Resource Bank:
<https://healthymeals.nal.usda.gov/features-month/march/national-school-breakfast-week>

AND

- The School Nutrition Association's web site www.schoolnutrition.org/nsbw. The School Nutrition Association offers special member resources specifically geared to NSBW with some materials accessible to the public.

Whether it be USDA's or School Nutrition Resources, both offer a number of useful tools and celebration ideas to help get you ready for a successful NSBW.

Check out some of the online tools, such as

- sample breakfast menus (that comply with the new meal pattern requirements, SNA) or Breakfast Entrée Recipes (USDA).
- Backpack Brochures for students and parents (SNA).
- Downloadable Presentations to go over with your staff, administrators, the PTA, etc. (SNA)
- Posters, banners and promotional materials (USDA).
- Activity Sheets to get students thinking about breakfast. (SNA), plus much more!
